Jesuit Lenten Seminars
2005

Honesty matters

THE ETHICS OF DAILY LIFE

"The things that will destroy us are: politics without principle; pleasure without conscience; wealth without work; knowledge without character; business without morality; science without humanity; and worship without sacrifice." Mahatma Gandhi

Have truth and honesty become disposable commodities in our poll-driven and spin-ridden society? Do we shy away from honesty when it discomforts and disturbs us? If so what consequences might that have for our future?

The 2005 Jesuit Lenten Seminars bring together a number of people prominent in public life to consider matters of honesty and why honesty still matters.

Sessions will be held in Adelaide, Brisbane, Canberra, Melbourne, North Sydney, Mount Druitt and Wollongong.

The Jesuit Lenten Seminars

Since they began in 1999, the Jesuit Seminars have concentrated their attention on current social justice issues, discussing matters to do with social conscience, morality and public policy. Recent series have focussed on Australia's asylum policy, Muslim-Christian relations, and human rights in an 'age of terror'.
