

Evaluation in Public Health and Primary Health Care 5 Day Short Course

Venue: , Flinders University, Adelaide

Monday 17th to Friday 21st August 2009

FLINDERS
UNIVERSITY
ADELAIDE
AUSTRALIA

Aim

In response to a growing need from agencies requiring assistance with the process of evaluating programs and practices, this 5 day short course is designed to equip participants with the knowledge and skills required to plan and undertake an evaluation in the field of health services. It adopts health care approaches to provide participants with:

- An understanding of key evaluation concepts and issues
- Opportunities to identify issues of greatest relevance to areas of work or interest

The Program Will Include:

Principles, purposes and practices in evaluation

Evaluation : regarding access & equity

Evaluating community participation and 'empowerment'

Methods and data analysis for evaluation, including designing questionnaires

Who should attend the course?

This course is open to anyone with an interest in evaluating the quality or effectiveness of a program. It will appeal to a range of workers in the health industry.
